Brown V (Book No. 3) valid to February 26.
Brown W (Book No. 3) becomes valid January 30, expires February 26.

PORK: Red Stamps A-8 through M-8 (Book 4) (120 points) valid indefinitely to purchase pork from farmers by consumers only. Not from retail stores.

SUGAR: Sugar Stamp No. 30 (Book No. 4) good for 5 pounds, expires March 31.

SHOES: Stamp No. 18 (Book No. 1) valid indefinitely. Airplane Stamp No. 1 (Book No. 3) now valid.

Gasoline: A-10 coupons now valid. Expire March 21.

Advance Points For Pork

Advance use of 120 red points from ration book 4 has been authorized by the Office of Price Administration to stimulate purchases of plentiful pork direct from farmers and county slaughterers, it was explained by Major W. E. Holcomb, District OPA Director at Jackson who emphasized that these stamps could not be used in retail stores.

Stamps which have been invalidated indefinitely for farm purchases are the red stamps marked A-8 through M-8 in Book 4, which are given a value of 10 points each regardless of the printed point value. Major Holcomb also stressed that when these stamps are used for on-the-farm purchases, they should be removed from right to left, across the top of the page, and not up-and-down, which has been the custom since point rationing.

The intent of this move, OPA explained, is to give consumers ample ration points for buying meat—both fresh and cured—from farmers who want to slaughter their hogs on the farm and market them direct to the consumer, thus cutting down the number of hogs coming into congested markets.

Advance use of stamps it was explained, does not give the consumer who buys from a farmer a larger meat ration than any one else. It merely allows the individual buying from a farmer to follow the normal practice of buying fairly large amounts at any one time.

Thus, Major Holcomb pointed out, a family of four would have 480 advance points for country-slaughter purchases. Consumers with adequate storage space could buy half a hog weighing 80 pounds from the farmer, which, at the present value of 2.2 points per pound, would cost only 176. A 16-pound ham, bought on the farm at the current value of 5 points per pound, would only cost 80 points.

"Endorse Your Coupons"

A special notice, urging gasoline coupon holders to endorse their coupons, will be inserted in newly issued gasoline ration books all local war price and rationing boards about Feb. 1, it was announced by OPA.

The purpose, OPA said, is to tell every holder of gasoline rationing books the important part he can play in stopping criminal traffic in gasoline sales.

OPA has emphasized that each separate gasoline rationing coupon must bear the license number of the car driven by motorists. This endorsement should be in ink or indelible pencil on the face of every coupon as soon as it is received from local boards.

Use Green Stamps First

Green stamps K, L, and M in War Ration Book Four will be used for buying processed foods from February 1 through March 20, the Office of Price Administration announced.

These are the last green stamps on the page, and also the last green stamps that consumers will use for the time being. The new blue stamps to be used with ration tokens, come into use on February 27.

Between February 27 when the blue stamps become valid and March 20 when the old green stamps run out, consumers may use both sets of stamps for single purchases. Tokens will be given in change for both colors of stamps. Green stamps will continue to have the same point value as at present—3, 5, 2, and 1 points; the new blue stamps will have a uniform point value of ten.

Since the green stamps expire long before the blue, consumers are advised to spend their green stamps first. After March 20 processed foods will be bought with blue stamps and blue tokens.

Marchmont Schwartz To Enter Business World

Marchmont Schwartz, former resident of Bay St. Louis and one-time All-American from Notre Dame, has been granted a leave of absence from his duties as head football coach at Stanford University to become associated with Harry Connelly in the oil business in Wichita Falls, Kansas.

At an informal gathering at the Wichita Club, following his arrival there, Schwartz expressed wartime football as being rough on tutors and is firmly convinced that the peace must be restored for the resumption of good intercollegiate football.

Speaking of his new enterprise he said, "I'm a raw rookie in the oil business, but the idea appeals to me. Anyway, I've got a full year to give it a trial."

The best wishes of his friends are extended to Marchmont in his new undertaking.

PROMOTED

Corporal Joseph Noto has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant, and is now stationed at Camp Gruber, Okla.

150 PINTS OF BLOOD DONATED BY DONORS LAST THURSDAY TO BLOOD BANK

Lives of 150 wounded servicemen probably were saved last week in the Bay High School gymnasium, thousands of miles from any battle front.

The number may be greater or smaller, but the main fact is exact. One hundred and fifty pints of blood were taken from that many Hancock County residents and Merchant Marine School Cadets from Henderson Point by the American Red Cross Blood Donor Service Unit of the New Orleans chapter, sponsored by the local chapter.

All of the blood taken by the Red Cross from volunteer donors, mostly civilian, is converted into blood plasma, the liquid portion of blood separated from its white and red corpuscles which serves as well as whole blood for the giving of transfusions to the wounded and dying. The plasma can even be dehydrated and in the form of a fine, golden powder packaged for shipment to the battle field, whether in the jungles of the South Pacific, the hills and coasts of Italy, or the airfields of England.

Pictures of emergency transfusions on the battlefields are familiar; the wounded soldier lying down, his rifle bayoneted into the ground to serve as a stake from which to suspend the flask of plasma and the helmeted medical attendants standing by to complete the operation. By now, of course, the plasma has been restored to liquid state by the addition of distilled water which flows into the veins of the wounded man as a life-giving fluid, saving many casualties previously considered fatal. The comparatively low number of deaths in this war is ascribed by Army and Navy medical services largely to the use of blood plasma.

Surgeons of the services are calling for 6,000,000 pints of blood for this year, and the nation's 35 Blood Donor centers propose to get them.

The lack of critical laboratory equipment prevents a larger number of the laboratories, but mobile units have been organized to bring the country with the necessary equipment, take the blood in isolated communities and rush it back to the laboratory for treatment. Then it is shipped to the battlefield. The New Orleans Mobile Unit is one of many using a truck, several automobiles, and other equipment.

Donors here last week found the gymnasium transformed into a 12-bed hospital, the hospital cots unpacked from the truck and quickly set up and sheeted by local Red Cross volunteers supervised by the full-time Red Cross nurses and medical officer travelling with the unit.

They found the giving of blood to be a simple, painless, harmless and gratifying process. There were smiles before and after that told of a sense of duty well done.

"I was trembling when my turn came, but it was nothing; I feel fine now," one woman said.

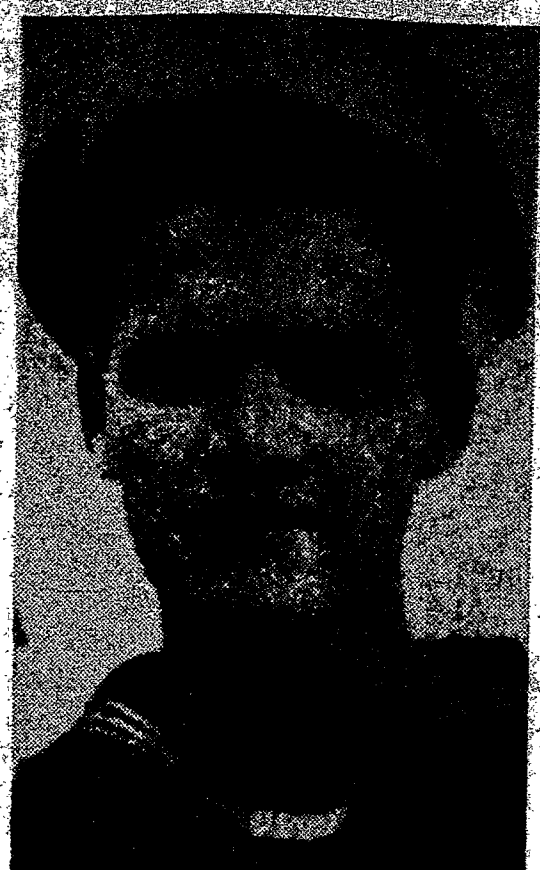

The job took less than an hour, including rest time and refreshments, which are required. The donors were guided through the routine swiftly and efficiently; first to register and be fitted with medical record cards, then to a full-informed Red Cross Nurse who filled out partially, then to another nurse who took blood pressures, to another who completed the record with hemoglobin tests and further medical histories, and then to an attendant who provided a glass of lemonade before proceeding to the cots where the needle was inserted swiftly and painlessly. Then it was a matter of mere minutes while the blood was taken. Then the patients, with a bit of adhesive plaster to close the "wound", were required to rest for a few minutes with the arm held up and the cot taken to the refreshment tables for water, coffee, soft drinks, orange juice, sandwiches and cookies.

Then they went home, feeling no ill-effects. The efficient medical examinations weed out all candidates whose health should prevent them from giving blood, persons under or over the age limits, underweight, with fresh colds, freshly extracted teeth, malaria within 15 years, recent illness or operation, active tuberculosis within 20 years or an acute attack of asthma or hay fever.

A donor can give blood every 8 weeks, but not more than 5 times yearly. More volunteers are needed, and the Mobile Unit will return to Bay St. Louis in about 70 days. Applications may register at the local Red Cross Office in the courthouse.

The unit was under command of Captain Ravers of the U. S. Army. The local Blood Donor Service Committee was headed by Dr. Marion J. Wolfe, and included Mr. Walter G. Brothman, Mr. Ed P. Orrie, Mr. George R. Res, Mrs. Louis Maunus, Mrs. Sarah Power, Mrs. Roger Boh, Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Mrs. George Stevenson, Mrs.

He is a native of Bay St. Louis, a graduate of St. Stanislaus and had matriculated in the University of Oklahoma but left to enter the services of his country.

Distribution of New Telephone Directory

Distribution of a new telephone directory was completed here January 20th. A total of 703 copies are being delivered to local homes and offices, according to A. M. Fishburn, manager of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Mr. Fishburn pointed out that the new book is bound with a green cover to make it easily distinguishable from the old Gray covered directory. The new book should be used as all calls in the future to decrease the possibility of subscribers getting wrong numbers.

An important message on the front cover asks the public not to make telephone calls during or immediately after an air raid alarm or other emergency, a statement essential that the lines be kept free for use by the authorities.

If the old directory is not taken up at the time of the new one's delivery, it should be discarded because many new numbers appear in the latest directory.

If any subscriber does not receive his copy of the new directory, he should notify the telephone business office and a copy will be sent promptly.

FOR WORK WELL DONE

The Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross, wishes to give its thanks to the many men and women who responded so finely to the appeal for Blood Donors. We would like them to know that the community was very highly praised by the Mobile Unit which functioned, and once again, as in everything assigned to this County, we met our quota.

The first man and woman to give their blood were Mr. Cliff Ferrell, and Mrs. Lillian Givens. Mr. Ferrell is connected with the REA, and is generally known throughout the County. Mrs. Givens is an employee of the local Telephone Company, and is certainly doing her share to bring this war to a speedy finish. She is the wife of Coastguardman Robert C. Givens, and in addition to her husband has three brothers all serving in the Armed Forces. Certainly, it is families such as Mrs. Givens is a member, who are 100 per cent Americans.

To all of the men and women who followed these two leaders on the 20th day of January, goes the conviction, that their blood, given so freely, will bring back to this country men who are valiantly willing to give their lives to safeguard the freedom of our Nation.

To all of the volunteers in the blood corps, who assisted at the Blood Bank, this Chapter wishes to extend its thanks for work well done. All operations were smoothly carried out, and there was no hitch nor halt in the functioning of this essential work.

In seventy days the Mobile Unit will again return to Bay St. Louis. We are confident that with the splendid showing made upon their first trip here, that every adult, who is physically able, will want to donate to this most worthy of all causes. We will call upon you and we know that the call will be answered magnificently.

To Rebuild Gulfview School Building

The trustees of the Gulfview School have purchased from the F. H. Egloff Estate the Landreau Brothers building corner Hancock and Sycamore streets and will demolish it and use the material for the rebuilding of the school building which was destroyed by fire more than a year ago.

The building was built by Landreau brothers for a bakery and a store. Mr. L. M. Gex, now deceased, came to Bay St. Louis in 1891 and several years later occupied the building as a general mercantile store. A like business was operated there and it later was purchased by the late Ferdinand Egloff who also opened a store there.

Its removal will mark the march of time and the many changes the town has undergone and another point of interest is the preservation of the material which makes it valuable for re-use.

CITIZENS URGED TO PURCHASE WAR BONDS

Citizens of Hancock County were urged this week to step up their purchases of War Bonds in order that we will be as near as possible to our $300,000.00 quota by February 1, on release issued by W. S. Morrill, county drive chairman.

The chairman said he is unable to secure definite figures on total bond sales in the county at present, but added that figures are expected from the Federal Reserve Bank within the next few days. He said indications from local and county issuing agents are that buying had been "steady but somewhat low."

"We are making every effort to complete our personal solicitation by February 1st," the official said. "After that date, we will spend our time largely on clean-up work. If each district and community will complete its personal solicitation work, we shouldn't have too much work remaining."

"It is important that each district and community reach its individual quota. It will take all these quotas to meet our overall quota, but the districts need not worry about anything other than their own responsibility."

The official said several hundred workers had been busy making canvasses since the drive opened January 18, and that he was pleased with initial efforts.

"It is going to take bond-buying by everyone, however, for us to reach our goal," he said. "We are confident our people will not fail. This is a vital war-effort job, necessary to winning the war. As the fighting gets tougher over there, so will our job get tougher here. It is left up to us to match the bravery of our boys by buying all the War Bonds we can. We must not let up. We must sacrifice to get the job done, and again we appeal for everyone to buy as many bonds as they possibly can."

A CORRECTION

In last week's issue of this paper there appeared an article announcing the wedding of Mrs. May Belle Favre White to Lieut. Commander Charles J. Van Trier, U. S. M. S. Through inadvertence the article stated that Mrs. Mabel White and Capt. Charles J. Van Trier, merchant seaman, had been married during the week by Father A. J. Gmelch in Bay St. Louis. By way of correction, the Echo wishes to state that Mrs. White and Lt. Commander Charles J. Van Trier, U. S. M. S. were married in Norfolk, Virginia on September 8th, 1943, by a Justice of the Peace, and came to Bay St. Louis last week to have the wedding ceremony performed by Father Gmelch according to the rites of the Catholic Faith.

AN HONOR

HON. W. M. Colmer, Mississippi congressman, has been named chairman of a committee created by congress, known as the Post War Economic Policy and Planning Committee.

This committee can and probably will be one of the most important ever created by congress. The Sixth Congressional District has received a signal honor in having its representative named as chairman of this committee.

Mr. Colmer is a member of the Rules Committee in Congress. He is influential and commands the respect and admiration of his colleagues.

Numbers of resolutions seeking to create the Policy and Planning Committee have been introduced; however, the resolution introduced by Bill Colmer nearly a year ago was finally adopted and passed by the House.

The purpose of the committee is to make a study and to recommend the reconversion of war industries to peace time activities. It expects to make an analysis of federal statutes to determine if any of them would retard prompt change over. It will recommend the amount of public work that should be undertaken to provide employment.

Mr. Colmer stated that in order to do a thorough job, he believed there must be a study of the foreign trade situation. Anything that handicaps free enterprise, in his opinion, will handicap reconstruction. He expects the committee to find ways and means under which war time regimentation can be lifted promptly after the cessation of hostilities.

We believe that Speaker Sam Rayburn could have made no better choice for the chairmanship of this important committee than Bill Colmer. Bill is an old time Democrat. He is conservative. He will not jump at conclusions, but will weigh out the matters that are presented to this committee and will act in the manner in which he thinks is for the best interest of his country.

It is our hope that the majority of the committee are men of the type of our congressman and share in his views as to post war planning, and we feel certain that if this should be the case that much of the red tape and government regimentation under which we are laboring at the present time will be removed, and this government will again return to a truly democratic status.

FOURTH BOND DRIVE LAUNCHED

THE people of the United States are now engaged in the biggest financial venture in history. World War II will cost this nation more than 90 billion dollars in the fiscal year beginning June 30th. 57 billions of this must be borrowed from corporations and individuals. Our national income during the fiscal year 1944 will be 148 billion dollars. Of this amount anything which is not spent on the necessities of life will become the cause of an inflation which will depreciate not only the value of the American dollar but all other securities as well. In the past year money has been foolishly squandered on luxuries thus bringing about inflationary prices. Since supply can not meet the demand, money must either be saved or else lost to higher prices. The sensible thing to do is to save it by investing in War Bonds.

Naturally, we consider the buying of Bonds the duty of every American citizen. It is his small part in the war effort. We at home will not be able to participate in the coming assaults on Fortress Europe and the Japanese strongholds in the Pacific. We won't be forced to share the dangers and hardships faced by our loved ones. But we can hasten the day of victory and their safe return by providing them with the very best in weapons and armaments by loaning our money to Uncle Sam.

Buying Bonds can be a great sacrifice but one we should be glad to make for our fighting men. If our small purchases seem infinitesimal in its bearing on the outcome of the war, we can add to its potency by offering it to God with a prayer for a speedy victory, for the safety of our fighting men, and for a just and lasting peace. Let us seal our Bonds with a prayer.—JAMES CARTER—St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw.

A CIVILIAN'S PRAYER

"HELP me, Almighty God, to be the only kind of hero I can ever be.

"Help me see how important it is that I go gladly and energetically about the humdrum business of saving my tires and my fuel, of spending less and saving more, of eating less and working harder, of asking less and giving more.

"Help me see that while the war may be won no matter what I do, the fight we fight to keep alive may go out because of what I prove myself to be.

"Help me realize that Americans are fighting today, not to create freedom and opportunity for the ruthless and greedy, but to make it possible for kind men, men of integrity, responsible men, to work in peace and to work for the common good.

"Help me to realize that these fighting men—indeed the good men and women of the whole world—are waiting now for one small but all-important sign from me:

"They know that I can't join them in the blood and dirt. But they want to see if I will seek responsibility. They wait now to see if I need merely to be led to do my part, or if I must be driven. For that will tell them if their spirit is also my spirit and their purpose mine.

"Help me not to fail them. Amen.—From 'Illinois Mobil-1289.'

Bay Central School
Bay St. Louis, Mississippi
Dear Madam:

Christmas here at Gulfport Field Station Hospital was quite a merry one, due in great part to the generosity of your Chapter. The pine cone candle-holders, the Santa Claus favors and the gum ball ornaments were all used to the enjoyment of the patients.

We here on the Red Cross staff deeply appreciate your generosity throughout this past year, and hope that the New Year will be both happy and victorious.

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) Jane E. Glassman
Acting Assistant Field Director.

During January the children collected some five dozen phonograph records for the use of convalescent soldiers, and sixty wire coat hangers, badly needed by the boys in the barracks.

If you have any good records you thing the boys would enjoy playing, and wire coat hangers that you do not need, send them to school by the children and they will be sent to Gulfport Field.

"Guadalcanal Diary" To Be Shown at A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday

Victory!

That, in a word, is the keynote of "Guadalcanal Diary" 20th Century-Fox's picturization of Richard Tre-gaskis' best-selling book, which comes to the screen of the A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday. For "Guadalcanal Diary" is the film story of America's opening offensive against the Japs—when they first swallowed defeat and we first tasted victory!

Here indeed is the picture we've all been waiting for—the story of the Marines on Guadalcanal thumbing their noses at desperate odds—wiscracking to the crack of sniper's bullets... Yes, and dreaming of dames amidst the terrors of jungle warfare.

20th Century-Fox has faithfully followed in line and detail Tregaskis' sensational best-seller. It has entrusted the portrayal of its characters to an outstanding cast headed by Preston Foster, Lloyd Nolan, William Bendix, Richard Conte and Anthony Quinn, including Richard Jaeckel, Roy Roberts, Minor Watson, Ralph Byrd, Lionel Stander, Reed Hadley and John Archer. With his inspired direction of the stirring film, Lewis Seiler has cut a new niche for himself among Hollywood's directors, while

ORTIE THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY JOHNNY COME LATELY

James Cagney with Grace George, Marjorie Main—Star Betters Academy Award Stride

"Johnny Come Lately" a fascinating drama penned by Louis Bromfield. The film, first to come from the newly organized William Cagney Productions, stars Academy Award winner James Cagney in the role of a vagabond newspaperman who arrives in a small Southwestern town just in time to aid the elderly woman publisher of the town's oldest newspaper, the Shield and Banner. Grace George, famous actress from the Broadway stage, makes her debut in pictures in the role of the publisher.

The supporting cast includes such fine players as Marjorie Main, in her first glamour role as a cabaret hostess, Bill Henry and Marjorie Lord as the young lovers, Ed McNamara, as the town's big shot, Hattie McDaniel, as the publisher's confidential housekeeper and companion, and Margaret Hamilton as a newspaper worker.

Jimmy Cagney, playing in his first film since winning the coveted Oscar, has one of the most engaging starring roles of his career as Tom Richards, the Johnny Come Lately of the story, about the frail widow who, ever since the death of her publisher husband, has made a gallant fight to carry on his newspaper and his home in the same manner as he did. The paper is slowly going to seed and she is being bullied into carrying out the editorial demands of a crooked promoter at the time Cagney comes along. Arrested as a vagabond, he is bailed out of jail by the widow and given a job as a reporter on her failing newspaper, as well as a room in her home. In grateful appreciation because he wants to see her happy and prosperous again, Cagney completely metamorphoses the paper and the town and falls in love with the publisher's niece, to boot.

Jane, the niece, played by Marjorie Lord, has other ideas, however. She is in love with Pete Dougherty (Bill Henry), handsome young son of the town's promoter, from whom she is estranged because of his father's bulldozing treatment of her aunt and the town in general. Unlike most of his roles, Jimmy doesn't get the girl in "Johnny Come Lately." In the end, seeing her reunited with the boy she loves, and feeling that he has restored to that were once hers, he goes bitterly on his way to find romance and adventure on whatever road he chooses.

*Ain't Love
Grand!*

Jack is head-over-heels! He has just met the one—the only—the most beautiful girl on earth. And when he isn't telling her so face-to-face, he's using the telephone to express his sentiments at length.

Yes, Jack, love's a grand feeling! Yet if you're using a party line, none of your telephone neighbors can talk while you are courting. A tied-up line also helps cause congestion in the central office. It puts an added burden on equipment through which war calls must pass. This equipment can't be expanded to handle all demands for telephone material is going to battle instead.

So please, Jack, help keep the lines clear—for your party line neighbors, the folks of your community, and the people handling vital war business that can't wait. Go to see the lady, and avoid telephoning her. If you do call, please be brief; she'll understand when you tell her why.

Grim determination and sacrifice are the two elements which finally turn battles into victories. Unless our fighting men do their best when they meet the enemy, they are in danger of three tragic things: (1) losing extra lives, (2) prolonging the war, (3) suffering setbacks.

The same goes for the home front. Unless we DO OUR BEST with grim determination and a willingness to sacrifice, we are definitely not wholeheartedly out to win.

Your E-Bonds represent your individual participation in the home-front war effort. The more E-Bonds you buy—the more you sacrifice and save!

Taking a cue from this, and challenging us to uphold our E-Bond record (Mississippi was the only state east of the Mississippi River to reach its E-Bond quota in the Third War Loan), the State War Finance Committee will award ten E-Bond Pennants, like the one pictured above, to the ten counties with best E-Bond buying records. These Pennants will signify grim determination and sacrifice on the part of citizens residing in these counties.

Let's all do our part, let's all sacrifice to help win the war. Let's win one of these Pennants for our county. All-out buying of E-Bonds will win it for us. It will also spur us on to final victory in the Fourth War Loan drive.

We have everything at stake in this war. We must do our part and win. Let's win an E-Bond flag and let it signify our willingness to do what it takes to win! Buy Bonds—E-Bonds—now!

He has probably lost sleep over you!

The dead of night is often a time of service for your home-town druggist. There was probably a time in your childhood when the doctor was called at a late hour and said to your parents: "Have this prescription filled right away."

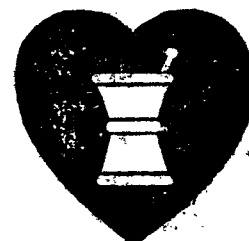

And as a parent, you may have known the same crisis for a child of yours — and felt the same sense of gratitude for your druggist's spirit of service that knows no hours and is far beyond any payment.

It is well to remember then — in the brighter hours of daylight when your drug needs are not so critical — that the most eloquent and helpful way to express that gratitude is in your acts, not just in words, by favoring your local druggist with all the patronage you can give him.

Straining with every nerve to establish a beach head, they cannot look back to wonder whether we shall do OUR part. Instead with faith they must assume that we shall keep an ever growing stream of supplies and equipment flowing to their support.
